In the north-west of Argentina there is a magic plant that offers the best of the South American jungle: mate.

The leaves of this small tree have a strong power to energize and detoxify through its infusions. The centuries-old practices of sipping mate have become a symbol of union, , “argentinity” and friendship.

Mate is “cebado” (servered) adding water to the loose “yerba mate” leaves with several herbs, deppending on the region and sipped with a metal straw from a calabas.

Cura Té Alma has developed authentic Argentinian blends with mate and a studied selection of fruits, flowers, herbs and spices. These original flavors and its healthy benefits are arriving soon to the international markets.
