“

At AKA we understand that achieving the desired results in an internationalization project is not easy without expert advice and a powerful international network of professionals.

With the hope of reaching more people and delivering the services they deserve, a group of experts decided to establish a firm in Washington, D.C.; this is how AKA was founded.

WHO WE ARE

AKA is a full-service government relations firm headquartered in Washington D.C. For over 10 years, we have worked with clients to deliver strategic and effective results through international relations.

AKA is a specialized business, legal and political consulting firm, and our main expertise is in providing professional advice on U.S. – Latin America relations.
