

Grupo La Península is a family business, 100% Costa Rican capital, which has achieved crop diversification. Until the 90's the company was avocadoed only when it began the fruit production in order to promote economic and social development of the Península de Nicoya, which was a success.

Grupo La Península is committed to produce great quality fruit, taking into account sustainability and social responsibility, both, locally and internationally. The staff is sworn to compliance with Good Agricultural and Manufacturing Practices, making us to be creditors of annual certifications of international recognition.
