light and shadow

summer collection

‘The evolution of the designer who combines her shadow and her light to create a new collection

Within a process of evolution I often need to deal with my shadows and realize how much I illuminate my own life and those around me

The colors in this collection are a reminder that we can have many facets within us

Silk used in cover ups brings the lightness we all need in our lives

Metals are a reminder that light always shines even in the midst of insecurity’

From the city to the sea

From the sea to the city
