

Gecko®

INTERESTED IN A NEW PRODUCT LINE?

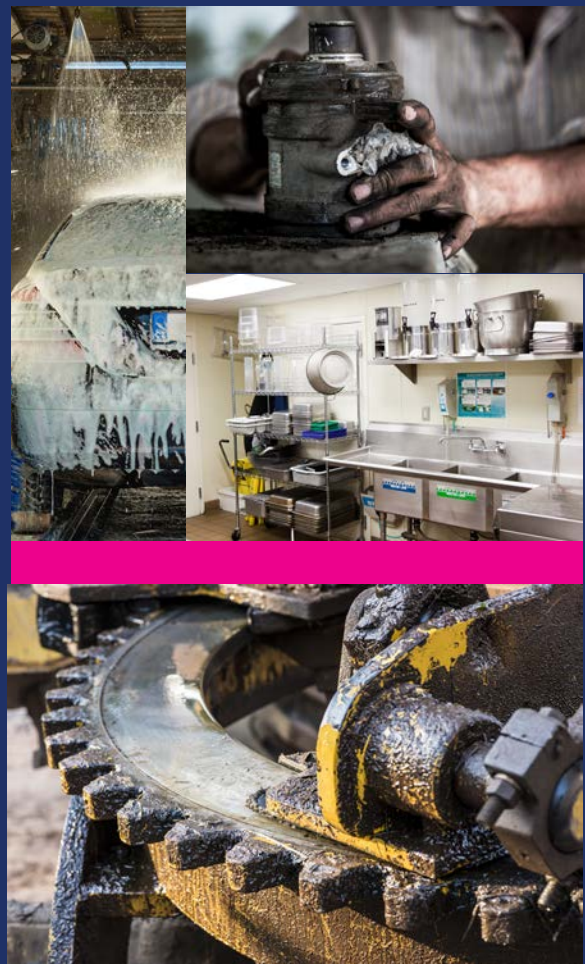

Gecko® is actively seeking new sales distribution channels for its professional cleaning product lines throughout the country and some international regions.

We know about the difficulties that daily professional cleaning workers face using products formulated for domestic use in their commercial operations, for this reason, Gecko® products are formulated for those professionals who need to do the job faster, easier and with better results.

We provide technical support and security information, promotional materials, website support, recommendations from potential customers, product training and more.

INDUSTRIES WE SERVE

- Airports
- Mining
- Rest homes
- Vehicle washing centers
- Clinics and medical offices
- Colleges, institutes, and universities
- Cleaning contractors
- Transportation companies
- Gyms
- Hotels
- Manufacturing industry
- Offices and warehouses
- Food plants
- Ports
- Restaurants
- Supermarkets
- Mechanics workshops
- Electrical workshops
- Stores
- Veterinarians, among others

FOLLOW US

WHY USE GECKO® 100

- Because our formulas really work
- Because we understand the needs of our clients
- Because they reduce costs
- Because they increase productivity
- Because our products do what we say they do
- Because they have been formulated for professional use
- Because they are safer

We welcome inquiries from companies interested in developing new growing areas with high-quality products and technical support.

Contact us to find out how you can partner with us to offer the best professional cleaning innovations to your customers!

For more information about our professional cleaning product line and distribution opportunities, please write us to distributors@gecko100.com

"Going together is a beginning, staying together is progress; working together is a success "
~ Henry Ford