About Our Company

Founded in 2010, Diveria is a full-cycle software design and development company headquartered in Santa Fe, Argentina.

We're also technology consultants, helping clients craft a strategic vision and define a roadmap to achieve it.

We work alongside our clients with lean and effective approaches to foster continuous improvement and better results. Quality is paramount in a successful software company, that is why we are certified ISO 9001:2008 for the entire software development value chain, from first contact to final implementation.

Our team has over 12 years of experience in building software for multiple platforms and industries.

Our communication is straightforward with excellent connectivity and effective project management. Due to our convenient time zone and cultural background we offer a seamless experience to American and European companies. And, of course, you benefit from the presence of our best people on site during key phases of the project to promote better work flow, progress and project control.
