Product Story

When you choose chewy dried fruits from EARTH University, you contribute to the cultivation of a new generation of leaders who are working together with the land to improve the world.

We are Pura Vida with the planet and the people: our strong environmental and labor practices allow us to offer a quality product planted with conscience and harvested with respect.

Mango and banana.. are native fruits of the area, grown right in our carbon neutral campus, with neither herbicides nor harmful chemicals.

Our sweet pineapple, which we source from family farms near our campus, is raised using traditional practices and in synergy with nature.

From the heart of Costa Rica's tropical rain forest, we thank you for nurturing yourself responsibly and helping to drive tangible and sustainable progress across our shared planet.
