We are a studio in constant search of balance and overall well-being and sustainability.

We seek to co-create with the communities, ecosystems and landscapes.

DDA became a platform that promotes ecological and sustainable architecture projects, which aims to transform the world into a better place.

CLUB AND BUSINESS CENTER UNICOMFACAUCA

VALUE

We adapt to the needs of our clients by creating personalized and innovative experiences aimed at achieving sustainability (economic, social, and environmental) through high-quality projects supported by the creativity of our team and technology.

ECOLOGICAL DESIGN

INCLUSIVE AND PARTICIPATORY

With a Cost awareness, social and environmental conditions of the projects, the design process is adapted to achieve comprehensive sustainability for our clients and the intervention site, with cost awareness.

CUSTOMIZED SOLUTIONS

In order to achieve specific goals of each project, we follow a custom-made methodology, with the upmost commitment, rigor and dedication; maximizing human capital, technological and financial aspects of each client and project, according to its scale, complexity and size,

QUALITY - INTEGRALITY

EXPERIENCE WITH EXPERIMENTATION

With ethics, commitment, responsibility, efficiency, effectiveness, rigor and precision, we respond to the needs of each project, collecting a 15-year trajectory of professional activity mixed with academia, offering coordination between systems.

VALUE VS PRICE

KNOWLEDGE AND RESEARCH

Existing analysis and proposals are integrated to generate conviction in decision-making through a broad and interdisciplinary perspective that seeks to create value.

CREATIVITY

INNOVATION AND CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

The design process is approached with diverse and avant-garde methodologies, opening paths through learned lessons of previous experiences.

OUR PROJECTS ARE BORN FROM: Recognizing the project as information loops

Design processes are not linear. They are circular and require methodologies to align operations and efforts.

To help define the best paths; The key actors are defined from the start, which help generate the best objectives (emerging properties) from a systemic approach.

NO – we only do architecture

We do comprehensive planning of the project

With the support of technology, the actors and resources of each project; We help formulate its problems and strategies to achieve the best possible synergies.

We help shape

processes

Systems have emergent properties that are not found in the parts that compose them. You cannot predict the properties of an entire system by dividing it and analyzing its parts. If a system decomposes, its essential properties will not be found in any of the resulting pieces. These properties only arise when the entire system acts. (...)

DE ROSNAY, Joël, The Macroscopic: towards a global vision. Madrid: Editorial AC, 1977.

"...when we have a totality provided with synergy, that is, the sum of the parts is different from the whole, we can speak of a system." Taken from. "Introduction to systemic thinking."
