

EVOLUTION LIVE IT

GALAPAGOS

The Galapagos Islands are truly unique in the world. All islands of this archipelago are wonderful and mysterious.

They are located in the Pacific Ocean. They are about a thousand kilometers to the west of Ecuador, a country that is located to the northwest of South America. See map of Galapagos Centuries ago were refuge filibusters and pirates, today was the Paradise of tourists and scientists.

The name of these islands is owed to one of the species that inhabit the place: the giant Galapagos turtle.

Visit the only living museum of evolutionary changes in the world and learn about the variety of unique animal species of this exotic archipelago.

The Galapagos are the perfect place to understand the evolutionary changes that have given way to a new perspective of life on the planet.

Among the various animals that exist in Galapagos, we find: the giant tortoises, a variety of birds such as blue-footed, red-footed, flamingos, fragatas, albatrosses and little penguins among others.

We can also find 14 different species of boobies which he served Charles Darwin as evidence for his theory of evolution by natural selection, among others. Here is the story of the Galapagos Islands

Also in the Galapagos Islands there is an incredible variety of marine life such as sea lions, dolphins, whales and thousands of multicolored fish. "The Galapagos have a high percentage of endemic species".

Chill out on the ample sun deck, or get to know your fellow travelers while dining together. If you are seeking for the chance to reach these islands only a cruise can allow but you are short on budget, the New Flamingo is your perfect combination of basic comfort and a comprehensive travel itinerary.

Cabins: 5 double cabins with upper and lower berth, each cabin with toilet, shower (hot water), washbasin and ventilators.
