ORGANIC FOODS

Liking Organic Foods S.A.C. is an enterprise founded in 2008 with a clear intention of social responsibility and social inclusion. We are a dynamic and multicultural company. We are aware of the mega diversity and richness of the food heritage of the regions of Peru. We provide the best raw materials and organic products with high added value obtained with strategies for sustainable development (economic, social and environmental).

OUR FAIR TRADE VISION

In LIKING ORGANIC FOODS we believe that Premium quality products are born from close cooperation and involvement with small farming communities and from assuring their sustainable development. We work to guarantee Fair Trade policies are applied to the farmers' produce. By providing them with technical support and paying fair prices we make it possible for farmers to improve their farming techniques and hence the quality of life, not only for their own families, but also neighboring communities.

OUR BUSINESS MODEL

From the very beginning, we were motivated by the idea of being able to establish close relationship with farmers in rural areas, close to where raw material are grown. This has given us a series of advantages, such as close and direct relationship with small farmers, which allow us to give them free technical assistance and guarantee the compliance with Organic regulations. This close relationship with small farmers guarantee and allows us to provide our costumers high quality Superfoods.
