Vision

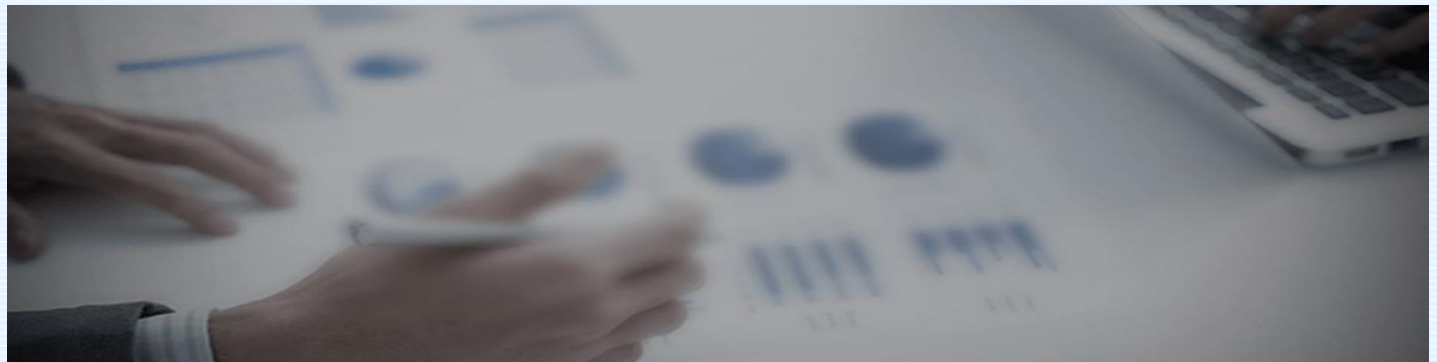

- Our customers are effective partners in the ongoing search for solutions to common problems. The basic premise of our service policy is that the delivery of full assistance at all stages and in all procedures of the foreign trade operations is a specific tool to minimize the sundry everyday problems.

History

- Ônix was established in 1996, resulting from the spin-off of Prisma, which had been operating in the international trade area since 1980. Prisma was born still under a completely closed economic system and specialized in tax consultancy, special projects, planning of operations aimed at increasing the import quota. Later on, Prisma expanded its activities to the fields of logistics and customs clearance.

Evolution

- From its foundation, Ônix has specialized in Customs Clearance and tax consultancy in the area of customs procedures, in projects for obtaining more favorable import tariffs, special customs regimes, for trade fairs, used goods, drawback, among other related issues and, more recently, we have become specialists in registering with Radar and the Siscoserv system.

Imports and Exports

- With the expertise accumulated over 35 years in consultancy activities on foreign trade, Ônix has been decisively acting for the internationalization of Brazilian companies, the development of new International businesses in Brazil. Besides the long lasting partnerships we have established with large multinational companies, we are specializing in supporting small and very small companies that are starting their importing and exporting processes.

Customs Clearance

- The customs clearing procedure has received important facilities, which allow for easier access to the registration of customs documents. Nevertheless, the basic regulations remain the same as in the 1960s, with little modifications, and so the number of errors in the declarations has increased. Onix has, notwithstanding, managed to maintain its historic standard of quality, boasting an almost zero index of errors in the preparation of customs documents and procedures.

Outsourcing

- Apart from technical advisory, we are qualified to act as outsourced providers for different activities in the foreign trade department, to temporarily replace professionals on vacation or on leave, present lectures and conduct debates with the companies' several departments for the purpose of explaining the involvement of same in the importing and exporting activities.

Tax Consultancy

- We execute special projects intended to reduce taxes (ex-tarifários), obtain special customs regimes (drawback, temporary admission, etc.), handle special operations (used machines, trade fairs, debt conversion, etc.). We prepare a full study, adjusting documents and information so that the processes be approved by government agencies with dispatch.

Logistics

- Logistics is another important factor that can render either feasible or unfeasible an import or export operation. Ônix is not directly engaged in operations, but may provide Logistics studies by analyzing carriage, warehousing, purchase conditions, packaging, etc. with the aim at rendering operations executable on the best possible terms.

Radar

- RADAR is a system of the Federal Revenue of Brazil with the basic purpose of tracking the financial capitals involved in the foreign trade operations. Ônix has become one of the main companies in the field, providing service not only to newly operational companies, but also to large corporations with complex shareholding structures and in need to replace their legal representatives or to change the type of treatment.

Siscoserv

- It is a computerized system where companies and individuals residing and domiciled in Brazil should declare the purchase and sale of services and other intangible assets.
