What is Panama Blue

Panama Blue is more than water; it is a natural wonder that becomes naturally pure mineral spring water, slowly and miraculously filtered through volcanic rocks that give it its exceptional characteristics. Nature gives Panama Blue everything to be a wonderful water, with a light and unique taste that needs no additives to be the best.

Panama Blue is nationally and internationally certified, being one of the first bottled waters in Latin America to be certified simultaneously with ISO 14001 and 9001 and winner of the Water Innovation Award 2008. You can learn more about the standards here.

Patented Packaging

With an award-winning bottle design, protected by the intellectual property (IP) system, Panama Blue has become one of the most recognized national products by consumers with a high export potential, being a brand that takes care of every detail, from the product to be packaged to the way it is presented to its consumers.
