SALSA ARTESANAL

TRAGAFUEGOS ORIGEN

México es un país rico en historia y una cultura increíble, desde sus orígenes muchos pueblos han dejado legados en nuestra sociedad, en nuestra vida y por supuesto en nuestra gastronomía. Aztecas, Zapotecas, Mixtecas, Toltecas, Olmecas, Mayas, por mencionar algunas de ellos.

Hoy, existen alrededor de 68 pueblos indígenas en México, Nahuas Zapotecas, Mixtecas, Otomíes, Huastecos, Purépechas, Tarahumaras, la lista es larga, porque somos un país lleno de sabores, olores y tradiciones, podíamos pasar dos vidas estudiando las antiguas culturas o conociendo a las contemporáneas, pero respetuosamente hacemos este reconocimiento a todos los pueblos de México, por sus grandes tradiciones y legado, actuales y extintos.

Un gran ejemplo de pueblos aguerridos, que han sobrevivido por cientos de años, es el Pueblo Maya, sin duda referente de México y Centro América. Kauil es el dios maya del fuego y uno de los dioses más importantes y resaltantes dentro de la cultura maya.

Esta poderosa divinidad además de estar relacionada con los gobernantes, estaba ligada a toda la humanidad en general, pues era considerado el padre de todas las semillas, incluyendo la semilla de la humanidad y esto lo convertía en padre y madre de todos por igual.

Otro aspecto en el que Kauil se relacionaba íntimamente con los seres humanos era con el denominado «fuego sagrado interno», esto no es más que la «fuerza espiritual» de cada individuo, también llamada esencia.

TRAGAFUEGOS ORIGIN

Mexico is a country rich in history and an incredible culture, since its origins many peoples have left legacies in our society, in our lives and of course in our gastronomy. Aztecs, Zapotecas, Mixtecs, Toltecas, Olmecs, Mayans, to name a few of them.

Today, there are around 68 indigenous peoples in Mexico, Nahuas, Zapotecas, Mixtecs, Otomíes, Huastecos, Purépechas, Tarahumaras, the list is long, because we are a country full of flavors, smells and traditions, we could spend two lives studying ancient cultures or knowing the contemporaries, but we respectfully make this recognition to all the peoples of Mexico, for their great traditions and legacy, current and extinct.

A great example of brave peoples, who have survived for hundreds of years, is the Mayan People, without a doubt a reference in Mexico and Central America. Kauil is the Mayan god of fire and one of the most important and outstanding gods within the Mayan culture.

This powerful divinity, in addition to being related to the rulers, was linked to all humanity in general, since he was considered the father of all seeds, including the seed of humanity and this made him the father and mother of all equally.

Another aspect in which Kauil was intimately related to human beings was with the so-called "internal sacred fire", this is nothing more than the "spiritual force" of each individual, also called essence.

MÉXICO, CULTURA, FUEGO, SEMILLAS,

SON NUESTROS ORÍGENES.

MEXICO, CULTURE, FIRE, SEEDS, SPIRIT,
ESSENCE, FAMILY, THESE ARE OUR ORIGINS.

En nuestra familia, elaborar platillos y salsas es una tradición, disfrutamos la convivencia desde visitar un mercado para adquirir los ingredientes, elaborar y disfrutar sus olores y sabores, es una especie de rito, del cual todo aquel que este presente debe participar. Hemos recibido el legado de generaciones atrás, gente que amamos y que, como nosotros, lo recibieron de sus padres y abuelos.

Nos han preguntado si Tragafuegos se refiere a comer el picante que contienen nuestras salsas, quizás pueda tener algo de cierto, más bien creo que para nosotros tragar fuego es recibir el espíritu de nuestra familia, de los presentes y de los que ya partieron.

Ramiro Araiza y Liz Avila. Fundadores.
Gracias siempre EJM†

In our family, preparing dishes and sauces is a tradition, we enjoy visiting a market to acquire the ingredients, elaborate and enjoy their smells and flavors, it is a kind of rite, in which everyone who is present must participate. We have received the legacy of generations ago, people we love and who, like us, received it from their parents and grandparents.

We have been asked if Tragafuegos (Fire Eaters in english) refers to eating the spicy content of our sauces, perhaps there may be some truth to it, rather I think that for us to swallow fire is to receive the spirit of our family, of those present and of those who have already left.

Ramiro Araiza and Liz Avila. Founders.
Thank you always EJM†

NUESTRA EMPRESA

Por amor a las tradiciones y a la cocina mexicana, comenzamos a hacer algunas salsas durante el año 2017, las preparamos en la cocina de nuestra casa, solo para regalar a nuestra familia y amigos, algunos nos querían comprar más botellas, pero no teníamos a la venta.

Comenzamos nuestra aventura en los días de pandemia de 2019, porque, tuvimos tiempo de reunirnos y experimentar nuevos sabores y aromas, estamos agradecidos por que nos confinamos algunos meses, solo para darnos cuenta que la pandemia nos hizo más fuertes.

Al fin, durante 2020, sin duda un año difícil para todos, comenzamos a colocar nuestro producto en el mercado nacional. Nunca olvidaremos tanto aprendizaje.

En 2022 iniciamos nuestro proyecto para compartir nuestros productos y tradiciones con nuestros vecinos del Norte deseando dejar un pequeño legado a través de cada botella.

MISIÓN

Elaborar y comercializar salsas artesanales de calidad gourmet, que brinden a nuestros clientes momentos para compartir en familia, las tradiciones y sabores de México.

OUR COMPANY

For the love of traditions and Mexican cuisine, we began to make some sauces during the year 2017, we prepared them in the kitchen of our house, just to give to our family and friends, some wanted to buy us more bottles but we did not have them for sale.

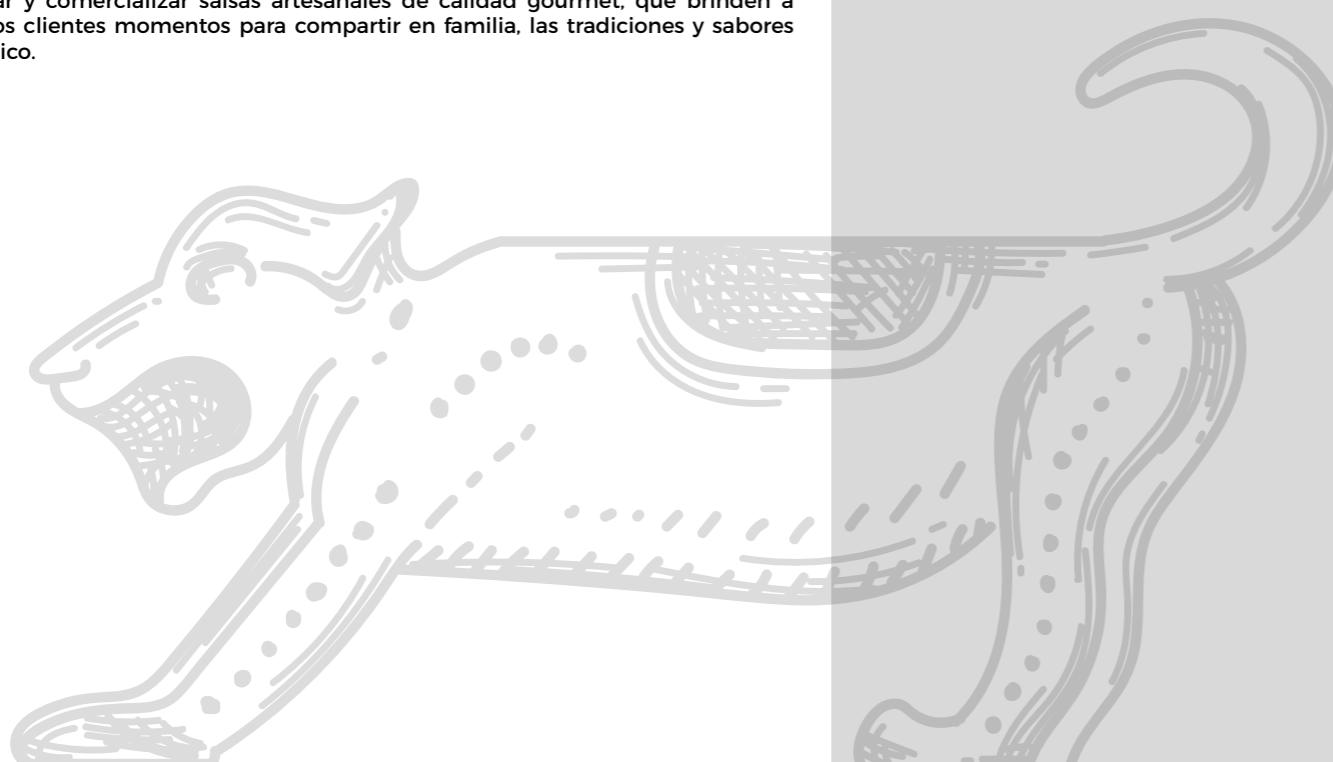

We started our adventure in the pandemic days of 2019, because, we had time to get together and experience new flavors and aromas, we are grateful that we confined ourselves for a few months, only to realize that the pandemic made us stronger.

Finally, during 2020, undoubtedly a difficult year for everyone, we began to place our product on the national market. We will never forget so much learning.

In 2022 we started our project to share our products and traditions with our neighbors in the North, hoping to leave a small legacy through each bottle.

MISSION

Elaborate and commercialize artisan sauces of gourmet quality, that offer our customers moments to share with the family, the traditions and flavors of Mexico.

NUESTRAS SALSAS

Utilizamos la Escala Scoville para medir el picor de nuestras salsas, en cada etiqueta podrás encontrar la clasificación del chile con la que se elaboró el producto.

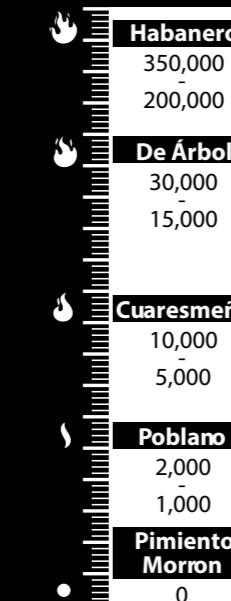

La escala Scoville es una medida del picor o en los pimientos (también conocidos como guindillas, chiles o ajíes). Estos frutos de plantas, del género Capsicum, contienen capsaicina, componente químico que estimula el receptor térmico en la piel, especialmente las membranas mucosas. El número de unidades Scoville (SHU, del inglés Scoville Heat Units) indica la cantidad presente de capsaicina. Muchas salsas picantes usan la escala Scoville para publicitarse en los centros comerciales.

OUR SAUCES

We use the Scoville Scale to measure the heat of our sauces, on each label you can find the classification of the pepper with which the product was made.

The Scoville scale is a measure of the hotness in bell peppers (also known as chili peppers). These plant fruits, of the genus Capsicum, contain capsaicin, a chemical component that stimulates the thermal receptor in the skin, especially the mucous membranes. The number of Scoville Heat Units (SHU) indicates the amount of capsaicin present. Many hot sauces use the Scoville scale to advertise in shopping malls.

Did you know...

The dried chile de arbol is a tiny but potent Mexican chili and is grown in various parts of Mexico, including Jalisco, Nayarit, Sinaloa, Zacatecas, and Aguascalientes. Although most likely native to Mexico, they are prevalent in cuisines around the world, including India, North Africa, Spain, Thailand, China, and the southwestern United States.

It has various properties, among others, improves cognitive functioning and prevents disorders such as dementia and Alzheimer's disease. Contributes to the formation of red blood cells. Chili peppers contain copper and iron. These minerals are vital for the formation of new blood cells. Hot pepper is also rich in folic acid. Folic acid helps in the production of red blood cells and fights anemia. Reduces blood pressure and prevents cardiovascular diseases. Chili peppers contain potassium. Potassium is a mineral that performs different functions in the body. An adequate intake of potassium combined with folate can greatly reduce the risk of heart disease. Potassium relaxes blood vessels, thus creating ideal blood flow. Other benefits include cancer prevention, stomach ulcer prevention, weight loss promotion, and longevity enhancement.

SALSA BOTANERA

Deliciosa salsa creada para los gustosos de la botana, elaborada con chiles puya, chiles de árbol provenientes de Yahaulica Jalisco y también chile guajillo que le da color y aroma, ajos asados y otros ingredientes que le dan el toque gourmet.

SU SABOR COMBINA CON CUALQUIER BOTANA SEA FRÍA O CALIENTE, PRINCIPALMENTE AGREGANDO UNAS GOTAS DE JUGO DE LIMÓN PARA REALZAR SU SABOR.

BOTANERA SAUCE

Delicious sauce created for those who like snacks, made with puya chilies, arbol chili from Yahaulica Jalisco and also, guajillo chili that gives it color and aroma, roasted garlic and other ingredients that give it a gourmet touch.

ITS FLAVOR COMBINES WITH ANY HOT OR COLD SNACK, MAINLY BY ADDING A FEW DROPS OF LEMON JUICE TO ENHANCE ITS FLAVOR.

Did you know...

The Chile puya is a dry chili that is normally 10 cm long and 2 cm wide. It is very similar to guajillo, but thinner, smaller and much hotter. There are many sauces and red stews made with this chili, however in the kitchen of the Mexico City and surroundings, it is almost always used mixed with guajillo chili, in fact there are cooks who consider them brothers because they often go together in stews, although one does not replace the other.

The guajillo chili is a popular condiment produced by drying the mirasol chili, the fruit of a cultivated variety of the Capsicum annuum species that is known by the same common name. The guajillo is one of the most popular chilies in Mexican cuisine and is the base of numerous sauces or dishes.

Not only do they fill our favorite dishes with color and flavor, they also contain a high content of vitamins, such as vitamin A and vitamin C, complex B6 and the capsaicin that it contains is considered anti-microbial and anti-fungal, and has beneficial effects. antioxidants.

They are also rich in protein, carotenoids and minerals, and in combination with legumes or cereals they help increase iron absorption; And if that is not reason enough to enjoy it in our daily diet, it is also considered an aphrodisiac and its sweet spiciness causes a sensation of pleasure.

SALSA MARISQUERA

La menos picante de nuestra variedad, exquisita salsa marisquera estilo sinaloense, porque nuestras raíces tienen que ver mucho con esa hermosa tierra, elaborada con salsas negras, soya, ajo, un toque de sabor a coctel de tomate y almeja, así como su ingrediente maestro, el chile Chiltepín sonorense.

CEVICHES,
AGUACHILES,
PESCADOS,
MARISCOS,
CUALQUIER BOTANA
O PLATILLO QUE
HAYA SALIDO DEL
MAR LE IRÁ BIEN A
ESTA DELICIA.

Sabías que...

El chile chiltepín es un chile de la especie Capsicum annuum utilizado en toda América, desde el norte de México hasta Sudamérica.

Es muy frecuentemente utilizado en Guatemala y en México, en los estados de Sinaloa, Baja California Sur, Sonora, Chihuahua, Nuevo León, Coahuila, Veracruz y Puebla, donde se utiliza para hacer salsas o como condimento. En México, se disfruta en platillos como el menudo, el pozole o el tapixte (en Veracruz), así como en cualquier tipo de sopas. Su uso agrega un toque muy picante a los platillos, sin hacerlos perder su sabor original.

Generalmente, el chiltepín se recolecta en estado silvestre cuando aún presenta una maduración incompleta, para posteriormente ponerse a secar.

De forma tradicional, los frutos de este chile son usados por los sonorenses para curar tanto el cuerpo como el espíritu. Se cuenta que sirve para aliviar dolores de oído y muela así como otros males como reumas, calentura, gripe, tos, debilidad, gastritis, hemorroides, mal de ojo y hasta "cruda de borracho".

SEAFOOD SAUCE

The least spicy of our variety, exquisite Sinaloa-style seafood sauce, because our roots have a lot to do with that beautiful land, made with black sauces, soy, garlic, a touch of tomato and clam cocktail flavor, as well as its master ingredient, the chiltepín chili from Sonora. Ceviches, Aguachiles, fish, shellfish, any snack or dish that has come out of the sea will go well with this delicacy.

Did you know...

The chiltepín is a pepper of the Capsicum annuum species used throughout the Americas, from northern Mexico to South America.

It is very frequently used in Guatemala and Mexico, in the states of Sinaloa, Baja California Sur, Sonora, Chihuahua, Nuevo León, Coahuila, Veracruz and Puebla, where it is used to make sauces or as a condiment. In Mexico, it is enjoyed in dishes such as menudo, pozole or tapixte (in Veracruz), as well as in any type of soup. Its use adds a very spicy touch to the dishes, without making them lose their original flavor.

Generally, the chiltepín is harvested in the wild when it is still incompletely ripe, and then dried.

In a traditional way, the fruits of this chili are used by the Sonorans to heal both the body and the spirit. It is said that it is used to relieve earaches and toothaches as well as other ills such as rheumatism, fever, flu, cough, weakness, gastritis, hemorrhoids, evil eye and even "drunk hangover".
