

We are UCHU:
The Spice Solution.

UCHU grows, processes and exports a variety of commercial and specialty hot peppers.

With over 60 years of experience, advanced manufacturing techniques, and state-of-the-art facilities, we guarantee high quality, precision, and hygiene in every step of the process, from farming to shipment.

With the help of over 1,000 independent smallholder farmers across Ecuador and Peru we can guarantee availability of our pepper products year-round.

Everything we produce is FSSC22000, Kosher, and Halal certified.

Our Peppers

We cultivate and process our peppers in Ecuador and Peru and ship directly to leading suppliers throughout the world.

We supply a range of regular commercial varieties, like Habaneros and Jalapeños, but we also carry rarer pepper varieties, with differing colors, heat, and flavor profiles.

We export peppers as a raw material for use by ingredient suppliers, traders, co-packers, and manufacturers.

Our Farmer Network

Hundreds of smallholder farmers grow their peppers in rich Andean soils following sustainable and responsible farming practices.

We provide these families with ongoing training and technical support to improve quality, yields, and economic livelihoods.

Each region is uniquely suited for a pepper variety: for example, the Escabeche pepper thrives in the sandy soil and intense sun of Northern Peru, while the Charapita grows best in the wet soils of the Amazon basin.
