YOUR STARTUP IS ABOUT TO WEIGH ANCHOR

We are a company builder, incubator and private early-stage VC firm which accelerate businesses through growth hacking strategies related to technology and business model innovation.

From our marketing lab based in Buenos Aires, Argentina, we boost diverse investment projects with outstanding entrepreneurs from Latin America and Miami (FL), United States, where our main headquarters are located.

How we help entrepreneurs?

The crew

We join them in their management teams and recruit the best human capital they are needing for their next conquest.

The ship

We strengthen them with fundamental technology they are looking for. We help build the main vehicle for their dreams.

The wind

It might be invisible at first sight, but we bring a vision, strategies and connections as energy source to move their startups to the next destination.

An exiting trip together.
