Resort Zekari is situated in the Imereti region of Georgia, within the Baghdati municipality. Positioned on the Meskheta ridge, it stands at an altitude of 2182 meters.

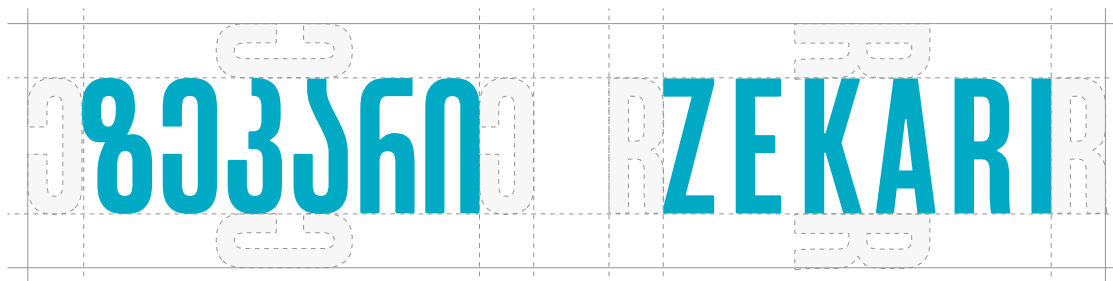

Both the air and water in the area have healing properties. Sulfur springs are an excellent treatment for various ailments, which is why the Zekari resort is known as a balneological miracle.

Millions of years ago, the Zekari Valley was submerged underwater. Following a volcanic eruption, a mountain system appeared, upon whose slopes the modern-day Zekari Valley now extends. Through the forces of nature, the valley has received special types of healing water.

One of those miracles is ZEKARI water
