With a solid background in Foreign Trade, I have worked as an export analyst for import and export companies in various sectors in Brazil. This path has allowed me to consolidate a strategic and broad vision of the challenges and opportunities of international trade. I have assisted more than 60 companies in Brazil, offering specialized support through partnerships with renowned institutions such as Sebrae-RJ, the Federation of Industries of Bahia (FIEB) and the Organization of Cooperatives of Brazil (OCB-DF), among other companies and entities.

With a degree in Mechanical Engineering and Industrial Engineering, I have practical experience on production lines in the Portuguese food industry.

This experience on the factory floor, combined with my knowledge of local consumer habits, allows me to contribute strategically to the selection of products and international suppliers with the greatest potential for market acceptance.

Our aim is to ensure that the best products reach Portugal and Europe, adding credibility and competitiveness to the brands we work with.

We are looking for differentiated products that can add value to the European market, offering local consumers an authentic, quality experience of Brazil.
